If you are interested in extra academic support, the Harrison High School Peer Tutoring Program is available. HHS Peer Tutors work by pairing a student that needs help in a specific class with a tutor that has previously demonstrated strong understanding in that class. With the support of over 30 dedicated tutors (and growing!), we will easily be able to find the best tutors to meet your needs. The program has been in existence for over six years and has proven to be very successful in helping students that need assistance. To get paired with a tutor, write an email to harrisonhstutors@gmail.com and include your name, grade, and the specific course you need help with, or fill out the survey linked here. We will then pair you with a tutor, provide you with their contact information, and you can schedule a time that works for both of you. Depending on your needs, the tutoring can happen virtually or in-person. If the tutor and student opt for virtual tutoring, they can choose whichever platform (Zoom, FaceTime, Google Meet, etc.) works best. Enjoy this video on how tutoring works! If you have any further questions or want academic assistance, please do not hesitate to contact Harrison High School Peer Tutors via email. We have many knowledgeable tutors who want to help students finish out this year strong!

Please remember to check your school email and grade level Google classroom regularly for important updates and reminders!
